

In line with the policy pursued since starting up, the aim of SapiSelco is to create wellness for those who work indoors and outdoors, maintaining maximum care for human health and safety — a goal that remains central to its activity — and for the environment in which it operates, not least with technical and business results in view.

In particular, SapiSelco seeks to reduce and avoid environmental pollution and operate in such a manner that its manufacturing and marketing activities tend to create an increasingly safe work environment for all personnel, namely by:

- Maintaining a quality management system certified to ISO 14001 standard
- Focusing not only on customer satisfaction, but more widely, on care for people and for the environment;
- Complying with statutory and regulatory environmental provisions applicable to the company's activities;
- Systematically monitoring the environmental aspects of the company's operations, products and services, understanding the impacts and identifying their causes;
- Planning environmental objectives and the various intermediate phases, implementing programmes, keeping check on the progress of such programmes and applying the appropriate corrective measures when necessary;
- Studying programmes designed to reduce energy usage, keep down pollution and, in general, minimize the adverse effects of all operations on the environment;
- Maintaining open and constructive relations with government agencies,

The company looks to promote involvement — and, where necessary, the training of co-workers in environmental matters — with the community in which it operates, also with associations, with groups and individuals having a legitimate interest in the environmental performance of the organization; and on the after sales side, to promote recycling of the product.

The management of SapiSelco is committed to providing the resources needed for the achievement of its stated goals, and promoting the specific training of all staff and workers.
